

Does 'Wounding' Damage the Protein Coating?

No. One of the advantages in using ECIS over traditional scrape methods is the fact that the protein coat is unaffected by the current. With traditional methods the protein is scraped off with the cells.

